CIRCUIT COURT DRAWS BIG CROWD

SIX GET PRISON TERMS

The April term of circuit court that convened Tuesday noon had a number of important cases on the docket to be disposed of, and made the session unusually long, court closing this forenoon.

Judge Guy E. Smith disposed of the cases in the following manner:

The case of Robert Alexander for violation of the prohibition law was continued as also was the divorce case of Lena M. Clothier vs. Ernest E. Clothier and Pearl M. Gibbon vs. Edwin Gibbon.

In the case of the People vs. Ed. Headstate, for violation of the prohibition law, Headstate was found guilty by the jury and was sentenced by Judge Smith to serve from 1 1/2 to 3 years in Jackson prison, with a recommendation of 3 years.

William Slade, rape, pleaded guilty to the charges and was sentenced to serve not less than 5 years nor more than 10 years in Jackson prison with the recommendation of 5 years.

In the case of the People vs. Earl Barber, for violation of the liquor law the defendant pleaded guilty and as this was his third offense, he was sentenced to Jackson prison to from 4 to 8 years with the recommendation that he serve 4 years.

Loren Richardson pleaded guilty to forgery and was placed on probation for three years, however after further investigation Judge Smith sentenced him from 1 to 14 years at the Michigan reformatory, Ionia, with the recommendation that he serve 1 year.

Ernest McConnell, rape, pleaded guilty to the charges made against him and was sentenced to serve from 6 to 16 years in Jackson prison with a recommendation of 8 years.

Sentence in the case of Wm. Reamer for violation of the liquor law, was deferred until next term of court.

In the case of John Malco vs. Charles H. Marker, trespass on the case, was continued, owing to Mr. Marker having not fully recovered from an operation he underwent recently.

In the case of Mary J. Wood Estate, the case was continued to the July term of court, owing to the fact that one of the principal witnesses is at Rochester, Minn., recovering from an operation. When the case comes up in July a special jury is to be drawn.

In the matter of the petition of the Auditor General for the sale of certain land for the taxes assessed thereon for 1926 and previous years a decree was granted. Also decrees were granted in the cases of Amabelle Purcell vs. Garvin Purcell, divorce, and Roscommon State Bank vs. Samuel E. New, et al, bill to quiet title.

CUPID UP-TO-DATE

Cupid Up-To-Date will be presented April 19th under auspices of the Women's club.

Cupid represents Love, and his helpers are Father Time and Common Sense. Dolly Extreme is a modern girl. Will, Steady is a likeable fellow. Dora and Cora are flappers. There are many other characters of equal importance and several choruses. The school children are taking part, and many of the "folks" out of school and we know you are sure to enjoy it. Don't forget the date!

TURNER LAW WOULD HELP CRAWFORD COUNTY

Representative Wm. Green of this district is an ardent supporter of the Turner bill and says he has every reason to believe that it will pass. In this bill it provides for the distribution of one to two million dollars to school districts having a tax rate over and above $10.00. On the basis of a $1,000,000 distribution Crawford county would receive the amount of $3,481.92 this year. On a $2,000,000 basis we would receive the sum of $6,963.84.

Other near by counties would benefit from this law on a million dollar distribution as follows:

Montmorency	$4,718.78
Oscoda	1,983.74
Presque Isle	7,619.14
Roscommon	2,127.74

The heavy burden of tax comes principally from the school tax and it seems only fair that the poorer school districts be given support in the up keep of their school systems. More and more is being asked of teachers each year and consequently teachers' salaries are increasing. The pupils of the poorer districts are entitled to have just as good teachers and just as competent training as are furnished pupils of the more wealthy school districts.

In the interest of our future citizens every possible assistance should be given in the interest of keeping up good schools.

MICH. LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

Michigan Press Association,
Lansing Bureau

There was a brilliant display of fireworks in the House Tuesday afternoon, despite the fact that both branches had passed the fireworks banning bill which has been signed by the Governor and given immediate effect. The oratorical pyrotechnics were displayed when Rep. Callahan of Detroit arose in the defense of his bill to take private employment agencies out of the hands of the labor and industries commission and place control in a new special commission to be appointed by the governor, attacking Eugene Brock of the labor commission for an alleged dereliction of duty. Rep. Frank Wade defended Brock and then Rep. Milton Palmer of Detroit in a cold-blooded address took Brock and his record up and down the line of denunciatory castigation. It was the first really acrimonious debate of the session and aroused great interest. Brock defended himself in the newspapers the following day, but his department is likely to undergo a searching investigation as a result of the rumpus.

Callahan's bill passed the House without amendment by a heavy majority. A bill by Rep. John Gillett, which would have permitted boards of supervisors to publish their proceedings in pamphlet form instead of in county newspapers met with such emphatic protest that Gillett amended the bill, making county newspaper publication mandatory, as before, and also authorizing pamphlets in addition, if the board so desires. In this form the bill passed the House.

The Snow income tax bill, a highly controversial measure, was passed by the House Thursday afternoon after a heated discussion, by a narrow margin, and now goes to the Senate for concurrence. The measure is claimed to have the favor of the administration. The bill levies a tax of two per cent on all incomes, with $500 exemption for a single man, $1000 for a married man, and $400 for each dependent child.

Senator Chet Howell has discovered that all of us are breaking the law by not having the gas tanks on our automobiles painted a bright red and labelled "Gasoline." He has introduced a bill in the Senate to free us from legal penalties in this regard. I hope it goes through.

The bill allowing townships to establish and maintain airports has passed the House, only the first of several bills which are on their way through to make aviation safe for democracy.

The Governor sent a report to the legislature early in the week of the status and condition of the Chelsea cement plant, but made no recommendations as to its disposal. There are varied opinions as to what to do with the plant, which is not a paying venture owing to its distance from a source of supply, the local supply of material having been exhausted. A suggestion that the plant be moved to some available location elsewhere in the state, where material may be obtained, and the plant be modernized to make the continued employment of convicts profitable is being seriously discussed.

Talk of a probable date for final adjournment is heard among the leaders of the state congress which is a good sign. Both branches are working overtime in getting lesser measures out of the way, but there is a lot of business yet to be done before the session closes. May 10 is the most popular date suggested but some of the optimists think it can be made a week earlier.

A joint committee of both houses is busy investigating charges made by Rep. DeLand that the utilities commission was not functioning properly. DeLand demanded an investigation and the commission promptly

Don't Disturb Me

Have we ever awakened a sound sleeper from his sleep only to hear him snarl at us, "don't disturb me!" If we have, then we have heard him express an attitude of the mind that is all set.

In these days it is well nigh an unforgivable sin to assume that there is nothing new under the sun. There can be no progress in such an assumption. And progress there must be; will inevitably be.

And such an attitude of mind is responsible for the death of Jesus, and many others who have followed in his train. No the Jews as a race crucified Jesus, but this attitude which has no regard to racial or national boundaries. Luther, Wesley, and General Booth ran amuck with this mentality. To Booth, Methodism said: "Don't pester me about your poor outcasts. I'm all set and cannot change my ways."

In these days we are seeing this selfsame attitude in business and in industrial life. Confronted with Christian social ethics, they reply: "What has religion to do with business? That has to do with getting to heaven."

And the moral is easily pointed: "Thank God when someone disturbs you. It may mean your salvation."

OPERA HOUSE GETTING VITAPHONE

Patrons of Grayling Opera House will be pleased to learn that Manager George N. Olson has contracted for a talking movie equipment to be installed in Grayling Opera House. Engineers will be here some time this week to install the apparatus.

Manager Olson is to be congratulated for his enterprise. The apparatus is costly and expensive to operate but it is the plan of Mr. Olson to keep Grayling Opera House several steps ahead of any others in Northern Michigan. This is the first city in Northern Michigan to purchase this equipment.

Altho the theatre is open every evening, just as soon as the new equipment is installed there will be a special opening program presented.

B. OF T. MEMBERS ENJOY BANQUET

The regular monthly banquet of the Board of Trade was held Wednesday night at the Club rooms. Chop suey was the bill of fare and was a change from former banquets, and very much enjoyed. The attendance was somewhat smaller than usual.

In the absence of President T. W. Hanson, Dr. Keyport, vice president, presided as toastmaster. It was not planned to have an extended speaking program at this time but the presence of Judge Guy Smith and Mr. Platt Manager of the Tri-County Telephone Co., Alpena, gave an opportunity to hear a few remarks from those gentlemen.

Several musical numbers added charm to the affair. Elaine Reagan, Betty and Gail Welsh, pupils of Mrs. Clippert, played a piano trio that was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Clippert, Mrs. Milnes, Mrs. Jarman and Miss Hermann rendered several vocal quartettes that were very delightful. Miss Marie Schmidt who is home from Ann Arbor where she had been studying voice culture sang two very charming soprano solos.

Dr. Keyport announced that assurance had been received from the State Highway department that Federal highway No. 27 would be paved this spring and that things look good for a busy year. Many remained for the evening and enjoyed visiting and cards.

TOPINABEE HAS BEGUN BUILDING OPERATIONS

Work on rebuilding the Hotel Topinabee has been inaugurated. A large force of men is on the job. Within 30 days actual work on the hotel proper will be underway, and it is expected that the resort will be ready for the official opening in ample time for the first tourists.

The new hotel will contain 53 guest rooms, half of which will be equipped with private baths. All will have connecting baths. The hotel grounds will be given attention by a landscape gardener. Indications are that the new hotel and surroundings will be more appealing than ever before.

U. S. AID REQUESTED IN POLAR FLIGHT

Dr. Nansen, the distinguished Arctic explorer, has requested the co-operation of the Navy Department in arranging the proposed flight of the Graf Zeppelin to the Arctic regions in the summer of 1930. It is desired to establish a depot for stores and balloon gas at Nome, Alaska. As a radio station is maintained at that place, it is possible such a station may be erected, in view of its undoubted value, in future operations of the Navy's dirigibles.

Here we have the most dramatic situation a detective play can offer: A life-and-death contest of wits between a super-crook and a master mind on the police detective force. The super-crook, known by the sinister title of the Vulture, is the first to score in the contest: his arch-enemy is mysteriously murdered. The crime is committed in an isolated farmhouse, where the murdered man has been invited by a would-be friend as chief of a party of guests. Naturally everyone in the house falls under suspicion, especially as practically all have good reason to hate the murdered man. Although the unraveling of the murder mystery is presumably in the hands of a police detective, he receives copious suggestions from a comical hick correspondence-school detective, who specializes in fingerprints and is just brimming over with bright ideas. Though these suggestions are received with scorn, some of them prove to be valuable; and in the end it is the amateur "fingerprinter" who digs up the clew that leads to the capture of the murderer, in which thrills and goose flesh are mingled with laughter created by the funny sleuth. The cast includes a gabby hired girl; the brutal, bullying victim of the Vulture; a charming ingenue; a pretended French maid; a typical hard-boiled police detective; and the treacherous, black-robed Vulture himself.

A unusual detective mystery play, in which thrills and goose flesh are mingled with laughter created by the funny sleuth. A life and death contest between a super-crook and a master mind.

HOOVER ENDORSES MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

President Herbert Hoover, who became president of the United States on March 4, heartily endorses the Citizens' Military Training Camps for young men of the United States. There will be two of these camps in Michigan during the coming summer, at Fort Brady, near Sault Ste. Marie, for young men living in the Upper Peninsula and the northern part of the Lower Peninsula, and at Camp Custer, near Battle Creek, Mich., for young men living in the lower Peninsula.

President Hoover says of the training camps: "I have noticed with interest and satisfaction the results of the Citizens' Military Training Camps since they were established in 1921. They offer an exceptional opportunity to the young men of the country for a training which leads to vigorous health, physically, mentally, and morally. They have made their own place in our plan of democratic government and I look with hope and confidence to their continued and increasing usefulness."

Both of the Michigan training camps at Fort Brady and Camp Custer are for basic course and advanced infantry training. The basic course provides preliminary physical, mental and moral training, including bodily development, athletics, drill, rifle marksmanship, first aid, camp sanitation, personal hygiene, military courtesy, discipline and studies in citizenship.

The qualifications for the basic course: Age between 17 and 24 years. Candidate must have average intelligence, ability to read and write English; previous military training not necessary.

THE CHINESE NEW YEAR

An interesting story about China from Rev. H. G. C. Hallock, an American missionary to that country was recently received. In it he tells about the Chinese new year. His letter is intensely interesting and we are glad to pass it on to our readers. It reads as follows:

Shanghai, China, Feb. 15, 1929.

Dear Editor:

We are in the midst of the Chinese big feast—Chinese New Year. Every one's birthday comes on this day. Should a child be born in even the last hour of the last day of the old year it would be two years old on New Year's. New Year came on Sunday, Feb. 10th. Every store was closed. All work stopped. But it was not quiet! It was like many Fourth of July's in one. Oh! the fire-crackers! At midnight I was awakened by a vast broadside of large and small firecrackers and they kept it up for days. In the morning the ground was covered as by a "red snow"—the "confetti" of exploding fireworks. Firecrackers are but a part of the feast—the noisy part.

The last day of the year everybody is busy—the men at closing up their accounts. All bills must be collected and all debts paid. Woe be to the man who does not pay his debts. The women are very busy. The house must be made as clean as a pin and decorated, and the brooms hidden—bad luck if they appear on New Year. Before the New Year sun rises all kinds of food must be gotten ready! Guests—many—will come during those days and they must be feasted. Few people sleep the last night of the old year. But when the sun rises, calm reigns over the household. As one walks out between 6 and 9 a. m. the whole town is asleep. Sunday indeed! But excitement arouses them and about 10 o'clock you'll find the streets alive with people dressed in their best "bib & tucker" and you hear, "Kong Hui Fah-dai!"—"Congratulations and abounding wealth to you!" shouted from one to another. The closed doors are plastered with appropriate sayings written on blood-red strips of paper. Go to open spaces of the city and see crowds encircling puppet shows, acrobats, monkey performers, squirming dragons, entertainers of all kinds, and peddlers of sweets and children's toys—Vanity Fair! Go to the temples and you find thousands burning incense and candles before all the idols, praying for wealth, old age and bliss.

One interesting god connected with the New Year is the god-of-wealth which is worshipped especially on the 5th—his birthday. The money spent on firecrackers in his honor would pay China's national debt. Few begin work again until he is properly worshipped. Another is the kitchen-god. He is a paper god and sits over the stove in the kitchen where he spies on the doings of the family for a year. On the 23rd of the 12th month he is given a big feast. Sweet syrup is put on his mouth and he is put in a beautiful paper sedan chair and burned in glorious style, accompanied by fireworks—which is sending him to the Upper-God to report on their year's doings—all this fuss and sweetness is to bribe him to speak well of their family to his majesty. When he returns on the last night of the old year—a new idol is bought and placed with little ceremony—in the old niche—it will be a year before he reports again—why "taffy" him now?

Next to idol worship gambling takes a big place in New Year celebrations—gambling everywhere! What they eat and drink, and the firecrackers, and gambling, all, in some way or other, symbolize or point to the sound "Kao-sen"—excelsior! in the sense of rising high in wealth and station—especially in wealth. It's indeed a wonderfully interesting time, and is indulged in even by beggars—for they receive a harvest in alms. The Nationalist Government ordered that Chinese New Year should not be observed this year. It might as well have tried to turn back the greatest tidal wave of history! National commands stop the observance of Chinese New Year's customs? Only the conversion of these people to Christ will stop this idol worship and lead to the worship of the true God. And to us the glad part of it is that each year more leave the false and adopt the true as the Chinese one by one are born anew. We are not discouraged. Pray much for China. Kindest regards and best wishes.

Yours in Christ's glad service,
Rev. H. G. C. Hallock.
P. S. Enclosed is a Chinese kitchen-god.

EXPLORATIONS IN ALASKA

Although more than 60 years has passed since Alaska, "Seward's folly," was purchased from Russia, says the Geological Survey, there are still large areas in that northern territory about which little more is known today than before the transfer to the American flag. However, it is to be remembered that Alaska contains 586,400 square miles—nearly one-fifth the area covered by the United States itself. The task of mapping this great wilderness has been in progress since 1898 by the Geological Survey, and although it is still far from completed, each year shows progress in the inventory that Uncle Sam is making of his northern possessions.

In a new, unexplored country, where streams are too swift for boating and the only trails are those of the wild animals, the surveyor must still use the primitive methods of transport—the slow but sure pack horse and the boat dragged by hand through water too swift for even the modern power boat. Both of these methods were used by the Geological Survey expedition that in 1928 undertook to extend topographic and geologic surveys into the upper portion of the basin of Skwentna River.

The Skwentna is a large western tributary of the Susitna River and drains a hitherto unexplored area in the heart of the Alaska Range south east of Rainy Pass. The party of four camp hands in addition to the topographer and geologist, with 16 pack horses and 2 tons of supplies and equipment, was divided into two parts. The pack train, with four men, was carried by launch and scow from Anchorage, on the Alaska railroad, to the west shore of Cook Inlet, to travel over a trailless country to the upper basin of the Skwentna River. The other men, with most of the supplies, provided with a shallow draft boat and outboard motor, proceeded up the Susitna, Yenina, and Skwentna Rivers, traveling by the use of the motor where that was possible, and wading and dragging the boat by hand through the miles of rapids. At the point where even this kind of boating was no longer possible the two parties joined and traveled southward up the Skwentna River into the very heart of the great mountain range. No human being was seen during a period of over two months, and even the few signs of native camps indicated that they were 20 or 30 years old. In September, when the approach of winter put an end to the work, the expedition retraced its own route to the coast.

As a result of the season's work about 700 square miles of hitherto unexplored territory was mapped geologically and topographically, and 50 square miles, previously mapped in an exploratory way, was remapped and corrected. This work gave a clue to the position and courses of the rivers that drain many thousand square miles of one of America's great mountain ranges, and to approach to other unexplored areas. The results of this exploration have just been issued by the U. S. Geological Survey as Bulletin 797-B, by Stephen R. Capps, in which the geography and geology of the Skwentna River country are described. The report is accompanied by a map on a scale of about 4 miles to the inch, on which the drainage and the distribution of the rock formations are shown. The report may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents at 15 cents a copy.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Mexican Rebels Beaten and Slaughtered at Reforma; Wisconsin Votes Wet

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

MEXICO'S revolution, or at least a great portion of it, was drowned in an ocean of blood last week, if federal statements are reliable. The rebel army of General Escobar, commander in chief of the movement, having been driven for miles by the troops of Gen. Juan Almazan, concentrated in the city of Jimenez, Chihuahua, and for several days fought desperately to hold the place. They were well entrenched and Almazan gives them credit for extreme bravery. But the assaults of the federal infantry, artillery, cavalry and air forces were too much for them and they withdrew from the city to Reforma, 12 miles away. General Serrato's cavalry, meanwhile, was hurried to the north of Reforma and there destroyed all the bridges and culverts, and when Almazan's air scouts reported that the rebels could retreat no further, he ordered an attack in full force. Escobar and other rebel generals saw they were trapped and fled, leaving their infantry to fight alone. These men took refuge behind their troop trains and the battle there was described by Almazan as the bloodiest in years of Mexican history. Neither side asked for a quarter and the slaughter was "tremendous." The rebel dead covered the battlefield, and many hundreds of their wounded fell into the hands of the federals.

The entire action, which began at Corralitos on March 31 and ended in the smashing victory at Reforma, was declared by the federal commander to be decisive. In his report to General Calles he praised highly the work of all branches of his army, and also paid a compliment to Escobar's military ability. In Sonora and other regions the rebels, at last accounts, were still carrying on. The aviators in raids over the federal fortifications at Naco created a lot of excitement by dropping two or three bombs on the American side of the international boundary, one of them injuring an American motion picture man. This and the possibility of similar incidents gave considerable concern to the State department in Washington. Mexican federal troops held at Fort Bliss, Texas, after their retreat across the border when the rebels captured Juarez, were ordered released by President Hoover at the request of the Mexican government.

PROHIBITION in its many ramifications insists on holding a place on the front page every day. Tuesday the voting population of Wisconsin went to the polls and by a majority of about 2 to 1 directed the state legislature to repeal the state dry enforcement laws and to remove the penalty on 27½ per cent beer. The wets naturally were jubilant but the dry leaders were not dismayed and asserted that the referendum was "futile." They held that the drys carried a majority of the counties, and that the legislators were bound to follow the wishes of their constituents rather than of the state as a whole. Should both houses pass a repeal measure it would place Gov. Walter J. Kohler in a delicate position. He endorsed President Hoover's prescription of "concurrent enforcement" of prohibition by states. If he should sign or veto the bill he would alienate either wet or dry backing.

CONGRESSMAN M. ALFRED MICHAFERSON of Chicago, a proposed dry, who was indicted at Jacksonville, Fla., last October on charges of bringing a trunkful of liquor into the country from Cuba, surrendered to the federal authorities in Chicago and gave bond for his appearance for trial in Key West in May. He declined to be interviewed but denied he charges.

In the case of Congressman William V. Morgan of Ohio, also a dry and also involved in liquor charges, a peculiar situation has arisen. United States Attorney Tuttle of New York, investigating the story that Morgan brought four bottles of liquor from Panama, was told by the customs agents that the Ohioan admitted that the bottles were in his baggage but refused to open his trunks, demanding the right of free entry. This was granted him by Deputy Collector E. C. Stuart, who was not told of the presence of the booze. The agents said Morgan threatened to "raise h—l in Washington" if his baggage was not passed without examination. Since the agents did not see the bottles and Mrs. Morgan, who was with her husband, cannot testify against him, it may be the only persons to suffer, if any, will be certain custom officials.

STUYVESANT FISH and some of his friends are exercised over the fact that his cruiser yacht was held up in New York harbor by enforcement agents and searched for contraband liquor. Mr. Fish said the boat was fired upon. No liquor was found on the vessel. Federal officials in New York after investigation declared the action of the enforcement men was entirely proper since the boat did not stop at their signals and the shots were fired high in the air.

MYRON T. HERRICK, American ambassador to Paris, died suddenly from heart failure, and all of France was thrown into deep mourning for he was beloved by the entire nation and was considered the best friend of France ever sent there by the United States. Officials of high rank, and representatives of all countries hastened to the embassy with their condolences, the press was filled with articles lauding the dead American, and the government at once arranged to give him an elaborate national funeral with full military honors—an unprecedented honor. After simple ceremonies in the American embassy, during which orations were delivered by Premier Poincaré, General Pershing and Quinlan de Looz, Spanish ambassador to Paris, the cortege set out for the American cathedral. The pallbearers were: M. de Looz, Foreign Minister, Brigadier General de Looz, General Pershing, J. Pierpont Morgan and Owen D. Young. The cortege was accompanied by two squadrons of republican guards, four platoons of infantry and representatives of all the official circles and American organizations in Paris, and the line of march was lined with infantry under the command of the military governor of Paris. After brief church services the body was taken to Brest by the embassy staff and there turned over to the French government which transferred it to the light cruiser Tourville as a salvo of 19 guns was fired. The cortege was to bring Mr. Herrick's remains to the United States, being due in New York on April 12. Following a parallel course with it was the Aquitania, bearing Mrs. Farnely Herrick, the late ambassador's daughter-in-law.

SENATE and house committees were exceedingly busy formulating farm relief legislation for the extraordinary session of congress. Among these heard, the most important was Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, who said he was giving his personal views but who, it was taken for granted, was expressing the ideas of President Hoover. He placed emphasis upon his belief that legislation should confer broad powers upon the farm board without attempting to define its exact procedure. The board, he indicated, must be dependent on to provide the real solution of the agricultural problem. In response to questions Mr. Hyde expressed the opinion that a board of seven would be less unwieldy than one of twelve, that bipartisan representation on the board was acceptable, but that he objected to geographical representation. He said the board should be within the Department of Agriculture instead of an entirely independent agency. Some members of the committee exhibited an unfriendly spirit toward the administration's proposals, but Representative Aswell of Louisiana, Democrat, declared that the Hoover program would have his complete support.

VICE PRESIDENT CURTIS put up to Secretary of State Stimson a rather embarrassing problem. It is likely to be especially embarrassing to Mr. Curtis. As every one knows, he is a widower, and he took to Washington his half-sister, Mrs. Edward B. Gann, to be the hostess of his establishment. Before Mr. Stimson assumed office his predecessor, Mr. Kellogg, after study of precedents, ruled that while Mrs. Gann might sit where she pleased at dinners given in the Vice President's home, she must be seated below the wives of ambassadors and ministers at official dinners where she and Mr. Curtis were guests. The Vice President informed the press last week that he had asked Secretary Stimson to overrule Mr. Kellogg's decision. If this request is refused, it is possible Mr. Curtis will decline to attend official dinners or other functions where Mrs. Gann is not accompanied. Of course social circles in the national capital are tremendously interested in the controversy.

FINANCIAL operations during March, according to a treasury statement, resulted in a reduction of the gross public debt by $108,980,352; and the net balance of the general fund on March 31 was more than $350,000,000 greater than a month before, funds thus being available for further retirement of government securities during April. The reduction of the public debt during the fiscal year ending June 30 next is expected to exceed $700,000,000. Treasury officials and congressional leaders are agreed that it is too early to consider tax reductions, preferring to wait until it becomes certain that income tax revenues will maintain the present high level.

EMPLOYEES of the Loray cotton mill at Gastonia, N. C., are on strike and last week they became so demonstrative that the police became alarmed and called on the governor for help. Several units of the state National Guard were ordered to the town and the disorders were quelled. A committee of strikers called on J. A. Baugh, general manager of the mill, and presented a series of demands, including a forty-hour, five-day working week, a minimum wage of $20 weekly, and changes in working conditions. Mr. Baugh rejected the demands. Half a dozen textile mills in South Carolina are closed as a result of strikes.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers have started a nation-wide campaign for a six-hour day to combat unemployment. Their opening meetings were held in Faneuil hall, Boston. Timothy Shea, assistant president of the engineers, told them that they must go to congress for a bill of rights to "protect men who are being cast into the junk heap." Contemplated railway consolidation plans, he said, meant that their union alone would have at least 20,000 more men out of jobs. A series of regional meetings throughout the country was planned.

AMANULLAH KHAN, former king of Afghanistan, began last week the drive by which he hopes to regain the throne he relinquished. With 30,000 soldiers he marched on Kabul and there were vague reports of heavy fighting with the troops of Bacha Saeb, the self-made king. Amanullah's forces were said to be armed with Russian rifles and ammunition, which was taken to mean that the Soviet government had interested itself in his behalf. Prince Omar Khan, member of the Afghan royal family, who recently escaped confinement in Allahabad, is reported as likely to take the field against Amanullah, supporting his own claim to the throne.

CHANCELLOR SEITZEL, who for six years has managed the affairs of the Austrian republic, has resigned, together with his cabinet which was made up of men from the Christian Socialist party. Opposition to Doctor Seitzel had been increasing since the great riots of July, 1927. He said he could have continued to resist criticism as a government official, but that he could not hold his office in the face of opposition to his personality as a priest. The church, he said, was his chief concern.

Poland also had a cabinet crisis for the government of Premier Kazimierz Bartel resigned because the government and parliament failed to co-operate. Marshal Pilsudski appeared to dominate the situation.

Why Numbness Kills

Feeling depends upon nerves and nerve action depends on temperature. When a finger or any portion of the body is made cold and numb the nerves in that center are immune from feeling because they do not receive impressions at the nerve ends on the skin. This is why, for very minor operations, the freezing process is used.

Why Damp Clothing Injures.

The reason we catch cold from sleeping on damp sheets or from wearing damp clothes is because the dampness absorbs the heat from our bodies more rapidly than they can make it up. This lowers our power of resistance, making us more susceptible to the disease germs which provoke colds, pneumonia, bronchitis, etc.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

responded with a request that the investigation be made and most thoroughly. A report is expected within a couple of weeks.

The Senate is still scrapping over a capital punishment bill, which the committee seems unable to agree upon. Likely something along that line will come out from under cover of the judiciary committee banquet next week, but probably with fuzz from the blanket all over it.

The appropriation bills will be probably the principal topic of discussion next week, and they will likely go through in a hurry, because every detail has been studied and discussed in committee meetings and practically all details agreed upon. None of the educational institutions will get all they have asked for, but the cut will be equalized so that all will be fairly treated so far as possible without making the tax burden too heavy.

The tobacco tax measure has been altered to apply only to cigarettes, on which a tax of $2.00 per 1000 will be levied, if the Lennon bill goes through according to schedule.

The Macrea bill in the House asks that every automobile driver must carry at least $10,000 liability insurance, unless he can satisfy the authorities that he is personally worth at least $11,000.

The Senate has passed the fisheries bill, with an amendment which will allow smaller mesh nets in the Saginaw district for herring. The bill will now go back to the House for concurrence in the amendment and if the House refuses to concur the matter will probably go to a conference committee.

After a hot session in the House Friday morning the Turner Senate bill apportioning $2,000,000 in aid of the poorer school districts in the state was passed, for the day at the Friday morning session and will be up again Monday. It provides that all districts in which school taxes are more than $10 per $1000 valuation will share in a pro rata distribution of the fund. This will help out the many rural districts of the state which are overburdened by school taxes. Each legislator was furnished a list of the school districts in his district which will benefit under the proposed appropriation.

The Peters corporation tax bill passed the House and if approved by the Senate will permit taxing of intangible assets held by out of state corporations.

The bill allowing the conservation commission to sell oil rights on lands was ditched, then resurrected and then passed with an amendment that oil and mineral rights may be sold to the person holding title to the lands.

More than 100 obsolete laws were stricken from the statute books at one fell swoop by the Haight bill.

The House Wednesday passed the bank and trust company bills which were prepared by the banking department. Said the bills will prevent the organization of any more so-called industrial banks. The most important change, according to the state banking department will be the granting of trust powers to banks, without requiring them to set aside portions of their capital and surplus in separate funds for that purpose.

Congressman Grant Hudson made talks from the rostrum of both House and Senate Thursday. Later in the Senate he was scored by Senator Gansser for voting against a tariff increase on sugar from Cuba and the Philippines.

Senator Person has introduced a bill empowering the governor to appoint a commission to index Michigan laws from 1803 to the present time, something which sadly needs to be done.

The governor has signed the criminal code bill, but the Cuthbertson bill which provides stricter penalties for liquor law violations, is still out of sight in a Senate committee.

HEALTHY PEOPLE

(By children of Miss Richard's class)

Two little twins I know, two little girls. They brush their teeth all they shine like pearls.

They play out in the fresh air every day. They eat apples to keep the doctor away.

They take a bath more than twice a week. They always try this health rule to keep.

They wash their hands before each meal. So the germ into their mouth can't steal.

They look up and down the street before they cross. Because mother told them, and she is wise.

They never drink coffee or tea. They always say milk is the best for me.

They go to bed early at night. When they get up they feel alright.

They play out in the nice clean dirt. The hands it does not hurt.

Home from school they do not play on the way. Because their mother they would not disobey.

And every day their cheeks grew redder still. Their folks they had no doctor bills.

These are the rules that we should keep. And our health we will not defeat.

—By Mabel Pankow.

Hygiene Poem

I visit the dentist twice a year. Such bad teeth I cannot bear.

If I could keep them white and pearly, I would visit the dentist more early.

I hate teeth that are bad. If I had them I would be sad.

Bacteria which I do not like, Bacteria is the hardest to fight.

I keep my fingernails clean, Oh! my, don't they look keen?

I sleep with my windows open. I play in the fresh air, out in the open.

My Health rules are my friends, They are the ones on which I should depend.

This big, red, apple which is round, I am going to eat the apple to make me big and strong.

Milk I should drink, Which is quite true I think.

How much power is in your garden?

NATURE can do only so much with any seed. The seed itself must contain the promise and the power. You would feel convinced of the power of Ferry's purebred Seeds if you could see the great Ferry stock seed farm and trial gardens. Here are acres and acres of specimen plants. Every plant that is mature is big, vigorous, beautiful, and bountiful. Only the best plants are allowed to mature—all else are weeded out. Any plant that doesn't produce true to type gets weeded out. And only seeds from the plants that measure up to the Ferry standards in size, color, flavor, productivity—are the Ferry's Seeds you can buy.

In these seeds is the power to produce flowers of superb beauty, and vegetables of superior flavor and size.

Surely all the work you put into your garden deserves just these seeds. Ferry's Seeds have to be all you expect when you buy them. In addition, they are fresh. No packet of Ferry's Seeds is ever carried over by the dealer for sale the second season. Ferry's Seeds may be had at "the store around the corner." Write at once for the Ferry's Seed Annual—with its good garden advice. Address D. M. Ferry & Co., Dept. H, Detroit, Mich.

Your garden will have its best possible start with Ferry's purebred Seeds.

JAPANESE BARBERRY AND BOSTON IVY FOR ARBOR DAY PLANTING

The demand for Japanese Barberry and Boston Ivy for Arbor Day planting has been remarkable—reaching a total of 7000 plants. This is the annual distribution of plants at cost from the Department of Agriculture of Central State Teachers College of Mount Pleasant, Michigan.

For years this distribution has been carried on, a total of 80,000 plants having been sent out. Prof. Myron A. Cobb of Mount Pleasant has charge of this work.

SUBMARINE ESCAPE PHOTOGRAPHED

Lowered to a depth of 38 feet in a steel box with windows on two sides, using artificial lights, photographers recently recorded the action of the men conducting safety tests with the salvaged submarine S-4 in the waters of Florida. Pictures were obtained showing the interior of the sub being flooded, men putting on the oxygen "lung" and making their escape through the safety hatch. The films will be used in instructing the personnel of the submarine service.

Does the Oil you're using now have the 4 essentials of a complete and proper lubrication?

1. Low Carbon Content
2. Non-fouling Carbon
3. Ideal body at all Operating Temperatures
4. Low Pour Point

Check your present oil for these four characteristics. Every oil, of course, has one of them. A few rate high on two or even three. But only Shell Motor Oil combines them all.

After all Isn't this the real test of motor oil?

THERE is no simple way to check the quality of motor oil. Not color. . . Not the way it feels between the fingers. . . Not over price. . . And not mileage between crankcase changes.

Oil must have four characteristics, engineers say, if lubrication is to be both complete and correct.

Thousands of automobile owners have found one oil—Shell Motor Oil—which meets the requirements in every way.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil report a marked reduction in carbon removal jobs. They enjoy amazing freedom from power losses due to carbon accumulations. That's because Shell has an extremely low carbon content—20 to 33 per cent less than a number of other popular and nationally known oils.

And the small amount of carbon which forms in a motor lubricated by Shell is soft, fluffy and non-fouling. It does not bake on metal surfaces. Instead, it blows out with the exhaust gases.

To the man who thinks all motor oils are alike—we say, "Try Shell—for 30 days!"

One complete crankcase change will be enough to show you that there is a difference in motor oils. For Shell Motor Oil over the road in the hottest kind of service. Shell speaks with performance. . . thrives on comparisons.

400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline starts quickly, burns completely and delivers full power because it's a "dry" motor fuel. Ought to come along, but it doesn't.

Shell Motor Oil has body and stamina. It won't break down. It provides the same protection at sixty miles an hour as at twenty. And to body, Shell adds a low pour point for easy starting and immediate lubrication in cold weather.

Shell Motor Oil is today's outstanding development in the science of automobile lubrication. Shell crude comes from handpicked wells. Refined by the new and exclusive Shell-developed, low-temperature process. Never scorched, never weakened in refining. And tested 259 times to check and certify the rich, unvarying quality of every quart.

That quality is adding countless extra miles to thousands of cars like yours. . . and has made Shell one of the best-selling oils in America.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL—and let the Shell Lubrication Chart be your guide. . . You will find courteous attendants at the familiar yellow and red Service Stations. . . Convenient everywhere.

two STURDY-RICH MOTOR OILS

Polarine-Iso-Vis

WHICH do you favor? Both are good motor oils—rich and sturdy. Both meet the new motoring conditions of engines running hotter because of higher compression and faster driving.

Polarine has a record of twenty years of outstanding service. Many thousands of motorists demand it wherever they go. If you want a smooth running motor—use Polarine—drain and refill your crankcase every five hundred miles.

Iso-Vis is newer. No other oil like it. It has a constant viscosity. It will not break down—it will not thin out—it lubricates faithfully and well all frictional surfaces. It wears and wears and wears!

Many Iso-Vis enthusiasts drive for a thousand miles or more without changing oil. Iso-Vis is as efficient on the last mile as on the first.

The Standard Oil Company [Indiana] recommends both. Which do you favor?

OGEMAW COUNTY TO RAISE PHEASANTS

(By E. M. T. Service)
Ogemaw County farmers, especially those farmers located in the vicinity of Rose City, have taken the initiative in the propagation and development of the ring-neck pheasant. This action by the farmers is expected to make Ogemaw County an outstanding area in the state and country as the home of ring-neck pheasants.

A committee of three farmers has been named in each township to interest the farmers in the raising of pheasants. Harry A. Jewett, former automobile manufacturer, who raises pheasants on his 4,000-acre estate, Grousehaven, has offered to supply the farmers with pheasants' eggs. It is estimated that between 5,000 and 7,000 eggs will have been distributed to the farmers during the present season.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Why Animals Become Independent Early

The reason why humans become independent so much more slowly than animals is because animals are guided by instinct, while humans depend on their ability to learn. The animal is born with the instinct to use its facilities, while the development of the human intelligence is a slower process.

FORMER BUICK DEALER IS NOW AIDE TO HOOVER

Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri is new Secretary of Agriculture

President Hoover's recent appointment of former Gov. Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri as Secretary of Agriculture, brings for the first time a man from the automobile industry to the cabinet of the nation's chief executive. Secretary Hyde has long been a Buick dealer at Trenton, Mo.

The appointee has established a remarkable record both in political circles and as a business man. Coming, as he does, from the very heart of the farm belt, Secretary Hyde, through his long association with problems confronting tillers of the soil, is especially qualified to meet the responsibilities connected with this highly important cabinet post.

Being the owner of three large farms in Missouri, Mr. Hyde has a first hand knowledge of the farm problem. The work confronting the new secretary will be largely of an administrative nature, and his automobile business experience will be of inestimable value in dealing with the ramifications of the farm question, because it, too, is essentially a business problem.

As a lawyer he administered to the farmers' legal needs; as a merchandiser of Buick cars his dealings with them brought him into even closer touch with their financial and domestic problems as governor of Missouri he became the champion of their cause—and now as a member of President Hoover's cabinet he is to become instrumental in solving one of the most difficult situations confronting the American nation.

Secretary Hyde is an intensely active man. When he practiced law he was eminently successful. Law has always been his central activity, but as time went by he became increasingly interested in the automobile world as a dealer in Buick Motor cars. He has made a remarkable success of his automobile business, which he retained during his tenure of office as governor and in which he still has an interest.

Don't feed celery seed without first testing its germination. After the third or four year celery seed rapidly loses its vitality.

White eggs in the incubator can be successfully tested for fertility on the fourth or fifth day, but the embryo in brown-shelled eggs can not be seen with an ordinary egg tester until the seventh day.

Some people think that cattle will not eat sweet-clover pasturage. They will eat and relish it, however, if they are turned on the pasture when the clover is no more than six or eight inches high and still tender.

There is no short cut in making good butter. To make first-class butter on the farm, the churning should take from 30 to 40 minutes, at a temperature, in the winter, of from 58 to 66 degrees F., says the Bureau of Dairy Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Patent churns that churn butter in seven minutes produce butter of poor body and texture.

The presence of a considerable percentage of spindle-shaped tubers in a lot of seed potatoes is a sign that the whole lot is undesirable for seed purposes. Late-season infection with spindle-tuber of healthy plants in the field often gives the disease to well-shaped tubers, which if used for seed produce diseased plants. Spindle-tuber may reduce the marketable crop from 25 to 50 per cent.

In testing individual ears of corn for germination it is advisable to take not less than six kernels; 2 from near the butt, 2 from near the tip, and 2 from the middle. Each pair of kernels should be taken from opposite rows, the rows being about one-third of the circumference of the ear apart. This method gives a good test of any individual ear. If any of the kernels fail to germinate, or if the germination is weak, produces inferior sprouts or is very slow, the ear should be discarded.

Clean-up campaigns against the European corn borer should be completed before the borer develops into the moth stage in late spring or early summer. All cornstalks, cobs, and refuse should be destroyed during the year, by plowing under completely, by burning cleanly, or by feeding to livestock directly from the field in the form of finely cut or shredded material or as silage. The disking in of small grains on cornstalk land or on high-cut corn stubble is a dangerous practice where the corn borer is present, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Sawflies and Roses

All that is needed to protect the foliage of rose bushes from sawflies that often threaten to destroy their beauty is a good, strong stream of water, applied from various angles. The larvae, or "false caterpillars," are knocked to the ground and perish before they can return. Or lead arsenate used at the rate of 3 teaspoonsful to 1 gallon of water, or 40% nicotine sulphate, used at the rate of 1 teaspoonful to 1 gallon of water, in which 4 ounces of soap have been dissolved, can be sprayed on the rose foliage. Sawflies are so called because the egg-laying apparatus of the female resembles a saw and is used to cut slits in the plant tissue in which to lay the eggs.

Dusting Seed Corn

Organic mercury dust disinfectants are more convenient to apply than liquid compounds for treating seed corn of the dent varieties to control the seedling-blight diseases. Several satisfactory "dusts" are available on the market. About 2 ounces of dust are needed to treat 1 bushel of seed corn, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The best way to treat seed on the farm is to mix it with the dust in a barrel churn, an old milk can, or a barrel mounted on a frame. Any excess dust should be screened off before the seed is planted. The accuracy of the rate of drop from the corn planter with treated seed should be watched so as to insure planting at the desired rate; sometimes it is necessary to use a different plate with treated seed. This treatment not only controls the seedling-blight diseases, but insures better stands from early plantings.

Inside Information

Dandelion greens and poke shoots are among the appetizing wild greens obtainable about this time of year. Have them occasionally while they are young, tender, and mild in flavor.

Waxed floors should be swept with a soft brush or mop entirely free from oil. Oil softens wax and should never be used on it in any way. A more thorough cleaning can be given occasionally with a cloth wrung out of warm, soapy water or turpentine or gasoline.

Leather furniture coverings last longer and look better if rubbed occasionally with castor oil or a commercial leather polish to restore the oil that gradually dries out. Wipe any excess off the surface.

If you have difficulty getting a child to drink milk, make plenty of milk soups, puddings, and sauces. Sometimes a little cocoa or other flavoring added to milk will make it seem more palatable. Try drug store straws to make an interesting game of drinking the milk or beverages made from it. Egg and milk drinks are both nourishing and popular.

Red cedar chests are useful because they kill any very young moth larvae which may develop from unnoticed eggs in the clothing one has put away. They will not kill half-grown larvae nor adult moths. However, if clothing is thoroughly cleaned, beaten, brushed, and sunned before being put into a cedar chest, the chances are that no moth eggs remain in it, and no damage will occur. Tight lids are of course essential to render the chest an efficient protector against moths.

Rheumatism Banished By New Konjola

Sufferer Had Abandoned Hope But New Medicine Made Life Worth While Again

MR. HARRY SMITH

"How often it is that sufferers have abandoned hope, and then have found relief, through Konjola, from the ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and from rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola triumphs when all else fails simply because it works as a medicine should—right at the source of the ailment. The 32 ingredients of Konjola, 22 of them the juices of roots and herbs, all work together, yet each has its own mission to perform. How Konjola works is illustrated in the case of Mr. Harry Smith, of Dexter, Mich. who says:

"I suffered so long from rheumatism that I believed that there was nothing to help me. Pains filled my entire body, particularly the lower cups of flour is a good proportion. A little sugar may be added if you back pains added to my woe. Though wish. SUGGESTS MARKERS ON LUNDEN FOREST

(By E. M. T. Service)

J. Emmet Richards, editor and manager of the Alpena Daily News in an editorial on April 3, suggests that some action be taken to mark the boundaries of the Herman Lunden State Forest in an appropriate manner. Both Houses of the State Legislature have passed a bill changing the name of the Montmorency State Forest to the Herman Lunden State Forest.

Mr. Richards suggests that tablets of stone or a column fashioned from native rock could be erected on the borders of the forest "preserving for future generations the name and memories of the life of this foremost citizen of the district."

The editorial points out that a memorial of this kind, linking his name with open spaces he so loved and in which he spent so much of his life, is one in which Mr. Lunden himself would take pride.
